

Shop member account creation

Last Modified on 24/10/2016 11:50 am AEDT

A customer who does not have a membership account, can now create a member account directly through your shop.

This will enable to them to receive the member discount.

Login > Create member account

The customer will be required to populate the following details:

Email address = Member account login email address

Password = Member account login password

Once this form has been created, this will generate a member account in Memberdesq, however the member the member financial status will need to be updated, so that the member can login to receive member discount.

Refer to next steps: Creating Shop Member Type and Subscription

Related Articles

[template("related")]
