

As you can see from the above image the name of the player, the competition they played in and their team are all listed. We then get a breakdown of their statistics. The top line is their total statistics for the season and the lines below all correspond to the game listed in the very right hand column.

Related Articles

[template("related")]

---